

NEW YORK POST

October 19th, 2017

The best buildings in New York City right now

By Zachary Kussin

This tower at 2 North Sixth Place stands on a prime waterfront Williamsburg perch — a stone's throw from the popular Smorgasburg market.

It's also the final tower to rise in that part of the neighborhood, so claim your space now. The 554-unit building by Douglaston Development marks its official opening this month; prices begin at $2,375 for a studio.

Residences have smoked walnut floors and floor-to-ceiling windows.

As for amenities, there's an indoor/outdoor pool that looks to the Manhattan skyline, a roof lounge with a fireplace, a lounge with a demonstration kitchen and a gym.

Contact: MNS, 718-384-2626